

Mamma Mia!

It's piping hot

ROSA Catalano, better known for her sizzled but fizzled out affair with Bollywood actor Saif Ali Khan, was in the city on Thursday for a pizza promotion. The Italian model sampled new pizzas and spoke about her love for pizzas.

The promotion, 'World Food Fest', which was launched by Pizza Hut is a three-month festival wherein different pizzas and dishes from other parts of the world have been included in the menu. There will also be live entertainment in its various outlets as part of the festival.

Speaking about the festival, Rosa said that being an Italian, pizzas have always been a part of her main food at home. "I come from a family, where Saturday nights are usually pizza nights," she said. She also claimed to be a good cook, "I like cooking and can make pizzas too. Among Indian dishes, I can make dosas."

She felt that food fest would cater to all kinds of people wanting to sample international cuisine as it had salads, pastas, and pizzas on the platter.
