

Rozza's latest love

Eat-er-tainment is the latest buzz in dining experience. Rozza unveiled the latest range of recipes being offered by a fast food chain

Aapne khana khaya?" asks Rozza Catalano, Saif Ali Khan's ex-flame, in impeccable Hindi. And when the khana comprises Pizza Hut's spanking new range of pizzas, appetisers, desserts, salads, and pastas, who would say no to it? As the Italian beauty urged everyone to take their pick from the 16 new dishes launched as part of the Pizza Hut World Food Fest, she also spoke about her love for thin crust pizzas. And what was it about this dining chain that made her lend her name to it? "The pizza factor! Besides, this brand has a great selection of pizzas from eight countries around the globe, and each of them is yummy! I especially love Exotica, which is cooked in Mexican style. It's got green pickle, and has black olives and sweet corn strewn over it," said Rozza.

Joe Louis D'Arto

Rozza Catalano

Speaking on the launch, Niren Chaudhary, managing director, Indian Subcontinent, Yum! Restaurants International said, "This food fest aims at redefining eat-er-tainment and promises to make it an exciting season at our restaurants. I'm confident our customers will enjoy being a part of this celebration of international standards as much as we enjoyed putting it together."

One couldn't miss the glint in Rozza's eyes as she sank her teeth into a slice of pizza while a singer crooned Falling in love. Pizzas seem to be Rozza's latest love.

PIALI DASGUPTA